Business benefits

Our service goes far beyond simply valuing losses. We understand that a property loss, either commercial or personal, very often has serious consequences. We recognise that “home” is the first and most important word in homeowners adjusting. We work with your policyholders in a compassionate yet efficient way to get them back into their homes, still meeting our commitments to the carrier. Our adjusters get straight to work to mitigate the loss, rapidly return assets to pre-loss condition, and achieve significant cost saving for both insured and insurer.

Case study

Water threatens new school year

The auditorium and band rooms for a large Washington State High School were flooded with thousands of gallons of water caused by a ruptured water main. The loss was in the middle of summer, and it was questionable whether the damage could be repaired in time to save the upcoming school year. Getting the repairs completed quickly was a top priority of the school district management. Norcross was nominated in the policy and assigned a local adjuster. He had extensive experience with water restoration losses, and had worked previously with a local water remediation contractor. Working closely with the school, the contractor, and the carrier, decisions were made quickly and repairs were completed before the students returned to school for the new year.
